

Preacher's Daughter

Esther Forseth

Verse 1:

Gentle, rocking motion
Like a baby that you're holding
Keeping it subtle as you're towing
Me out farther in the ocean

Chorus:

You're the creature in the water
I'm the preacher's youngest daughter
Find me swimming with the fishes
Free from breathing old traditions

Verse 2:

Weighted wicker basket,
They see freedom as a casket
We're meant to be one with the water seeping, swelling into wonder

Bridge:

Shallow breath, a heavy chest
There's a world that's under
Heavy fire of promises and guilt to uncover
Diving deeper I'm a seeker
Searching for other ways to live
That let us into what we discover

Chorus:

You're the creature in the water
I'm the preacher's youngest daughter
Find me swimming with the fishes
Free from breathing old traditions

Bridge:

Shallow breath, a heavy chest
There's a world that's under
Heavy fire of promises and guilt to uncover

Chorus:

You're the creature in the water
I'm the preacher's youngest-
